As a citizen of this state I absolutely do not want doctors to have the legal right to assist people in killing themselves. Doctors supposedly take their Hippocratic oath to do no harm, this is contradictory to the purpose of being a doctor which is to help people and save lives, not to end them. This state has already legalized marijuana and now this. My state is quickly sinking into the amoral gutter without regards to any negative harm this is doing to our society at large and to our dwindling respect for human life.
